AIMS OF ECPM

The aim of the ECPM is to promote plurality in medicine at the EU level as well as in member states of the EU.

Founded in 1991 as an initiative of medical doctors associations the ECPM intends to ensure pluralism in health care by

- Promoting the freedom of medical practices and the patients' freedom of choice
- Communicating with EU politicians and representatives of health authorities and agencies at the international level on such matters
- Ensuring that medicinal products prescribed by medical doctors practicing traditional, complementary integrative health care are available on the market
- Promoting high-quality education and training for TCIH (Traditional complementary and integrative health) medical doctors
- Providing medical doctors and patients with the necessary information to make well-informed choices

30 YEARS

As European federation of medical doctors' associations representing over 50,000 members who practice integrative health care in fields like anthroposophic medicine, herbal medicine, homeopathy, naturopathy, neural therapy, manual medicine, Traditional Chinese medicine including acupuncture made up entirely of medical professionals, which are established in the various member states of the EU.

In these 30 years the field of TCIH experienced up-and downs in which TCIH doctors continued to care, consult and support patients with an integrative approach of classical, scientific medical care and complementary modalities.

On the occasion of our 30th Anniversary (due to COVID a little bit delayed) we would like to invite you to our get-together.
